

DRAFTER'S NOTE
FROM THE
LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU

LRB-2698/P3dn
MGG:eev:rs

November 25, 2013

Matt:

1. Note that in s. 101.862 (4) (am) I inserted the word “existing” before “manufacturing facility” to remove any ambiguity in this provision.
2. The terminology used in s. 101.12 and the terminology used in Wis. Adm. Code SPS 361.30 are very different. This makes drafting challenging since the terminology in the statutes must be used for consistency. Please have someone review the newly created language in s. 101.875 (2) to make sure that the provision achieves your intent. As drafted, this language applies only to reviews of “essential drawings, calculations and specifications”; it does not apply to the review of variances by municipalities under s. 101.12 (3) (bm) and (br). Also, note that “municipality” is defined in s. 101.80 (1r).
3. I do not think it is necessary to amend s. 101.862 (title).
